About three feet of the tugboat Cornell No. 20 of the Cornell Steamboat Co., jettied out of the Hudson river today at Kingston Point where it sank suddenly yesterday during the preparation of a brick tow.

A lifeboat was lowered and the crew of four men got safely ashore as the small craft went down. It is now near the dock at Kingston Point in about 12 feet of water. Capt. Leo Brennan was in charge.

An official of the Cornell Steamboat Co., said today that the cause of the mishap was yet undetermined.

Maps Are Taken In Coplon Trial

Judge Says Data All Right Despite Attorney's Objection

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Maps depicting the movements of Judith Coplon and Valentine A. Gubitchev when they met in New York Jan. 14 were admitted into evidence in Miss Coplon's espionage trial today over violent defense objections.

Miss Coplon's attorney, Archibald Palmer, said the maps were based on "hearsay" and contended they were "prejudicial" to the defense.

Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves, ruled, however, that the maps were illustrative.

Palmer said he had consulted "a prominent Washington criminal lawyer" who told him any objection "was sound."

"There is a difference of opinion," Palmer said.

"Yes there is," the judge observed. "There is no merit in your objection."

The maps were prepared under the direction of Leo J. Gauthier, F.B.I. special agent, and were based on information given him by agents who "shadowed" the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Member Is Named To Police Board

Murphy, New Appointee, Formerly Served as Fire Commissioner

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk today named James M. Murphy, 82 Crane street, a member of the Board of Police Commissioners to succeed Stephen D. Hillebrand, 257 Albany avenue, whose term is scheduled to expire tomorrow.

A son of the late James J. Murphy, who was a member of the Kingston Police Department for 18 years prior to his death in 1917, the new commissioner is employed as sales representative of the Fuller Ship Co., Inc.

An alderman serving the Fifth Ward from 1936 to 1939, he was named a member of the Board of Fire Commissioners in 1940 by former Mayor C. J. Hickel and he served on that board until his induction into service in 1942.

He attended St. Mary's School and Kingston High School, and is a member of St. Mary's parish.

During the war he served with the 82nd Airborne Division and the Armored Force School at Fort Knox, Ky. He was a vice-commander of the American Legion and is an officer in the Forty and Eight. He is also a member of Cordus Hose Company and the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association.

He has been an active Republican, and is committeeman in the Fifth Ward.

Hoe Is Reappointed

Albany, N. Y., May 3 (AP)—Richard Hoe of Poughkeepsie, chairman of the State Bridge Authority, was reappointed by Governor Dewey today to a five-year term on the commission. Dewey's office said Hoe would retain the chairmanship. His new term expires February 1, 1954.

US Has New Formula for Fair Rentals

No Immediate Decision Is Given on Boost Contemplated; Done at Order of Congress

It's Up to Areas

Regional Offices Given Job of Figuring on Increases

Washington, May 3 (AP)—The government came up today with a new formula for figuring fair rent ceilings—but it provided no immediate answer on how much it will increase rents.

The new formula will be applied to the 14,000,000 dwellings still under federal rent control. It was worked out under orders from Congress to provide the landlords with a "fair net operating income."

Housing Expediter Tighe Woods last night announced details of the new "yardstick," designed to provide property owners a net operating income of 25 to 30 per cent on rental units.

The new policy, Woods said, will not mean a general, across-the-board hike in the nation's rent bill. But in announcing the basis under which all future rent increases will be granted, the housing director left unanswered:

1. How much will average rents go up under the new rule which Congress ordered in approving the 15-month extension of federal rent control?
2. How widespread will new increases be and in what areas will they occur?

Woods said, in effect, that these questions now are a matter for landlords and tenants to determine—with area rent offices acting as referees.

Under the new policy, "small" landlords—those renting one to four dwelling units—will be allowed rent increases if net income is less than 25 per cent of gross income. In such cases, rents will be upped to a 30 per cent level.

For "large" landlords—those renting more than four units—increases will be permitted to bring operating income to 25 per cent, if the net figure is now below the 20 per cent mark.

Impossible To Tell

Woods said it is impossible to tell how many rents will be increased under the formula. No accurate figures are available to show how much landlords' net operating incomes now average.

In addition to setting up the amount of net income to which landlords are entitled under the law, the procedures also outline specific steps which must be taken by landlords to get rental boosts.

Landlords first must petition area rent offices for increases under the formula. That provides automatic notification to renters, who then will be given an opportunity to oppose the increase.

C. of C. Executive Says Recession Is To Bring Relief

Readjustment of Prices, Shreve Says, Will Be Boon to Millions

Washington, May 3 (AP)—The President of the United States, Chamber of Commerce said today that a "recession from postwar peaks" of business is inevitable. He added that it will bring "overdue relief to millions of consumers."

Earl O. Shreve, in the keynote address at the Chamber's 37th annual meeting, also told some 2,500 business leaders:

"When the current readjustment has run its course, and buying for inventory replacement resumes, business should find itself on a sounder and infinitely more satisfactory basis."

The shift to a "more solid and orderly pattern of prosperity" will be blocked or delayed, Shreve said, if the government raises taxes and lays down economic controls—as proposed by President Truman—or embarks on a policy of in-the-red financing.

"It is self-evident to all thinking men," he declared, "that the federal budget should be balanced through the economy in spending—not through higher taxes."

Two other speakers at the first general session of the four-day meeting offered plans to bulwark prosperity, at home and abroad.

Businessmen should give "prompt attention to the task of pricing consumers back into the market" by lowering prices and bringing out new products, said Harry A. Bullis, board chairman of General Mills, Inc., Minneapolis.

A price decline is "natural and inevitable," Bullis said—"we are laying the groundwork for a long (Continued on Page 5, Col. 2)

Governor Leaves Door Open for Comeback, Denies His Trip Abroad Has Political Tinge

Albany, N. Y., May 3 (AP)—Governor Dewey planned a "no politics" label today on his European tour but left the door open for a comeback on the national scene.

"The trip is not a mission and not political," the twice-beaten Republican presidential candidate insisted at a news conference.

"I won't discuss American or European politics" overseas, he promised. "I'll leave that to people like Henry Wallace."

Dewey took a parting shot last night at the G.O.P. legislative tax revolt by saying he would not put his record-smashing $537,000,000 budget and did top $48,000,000 off his tax bill.

He dismissed his fight with the rebels as a "rather noisy controversy" that failed to cut a penny from his "rock bottom" budget. He portrayed himself, in a radio review of the accomplishments of the 1949 session of the Legislature, as an economical, progressive administrator.

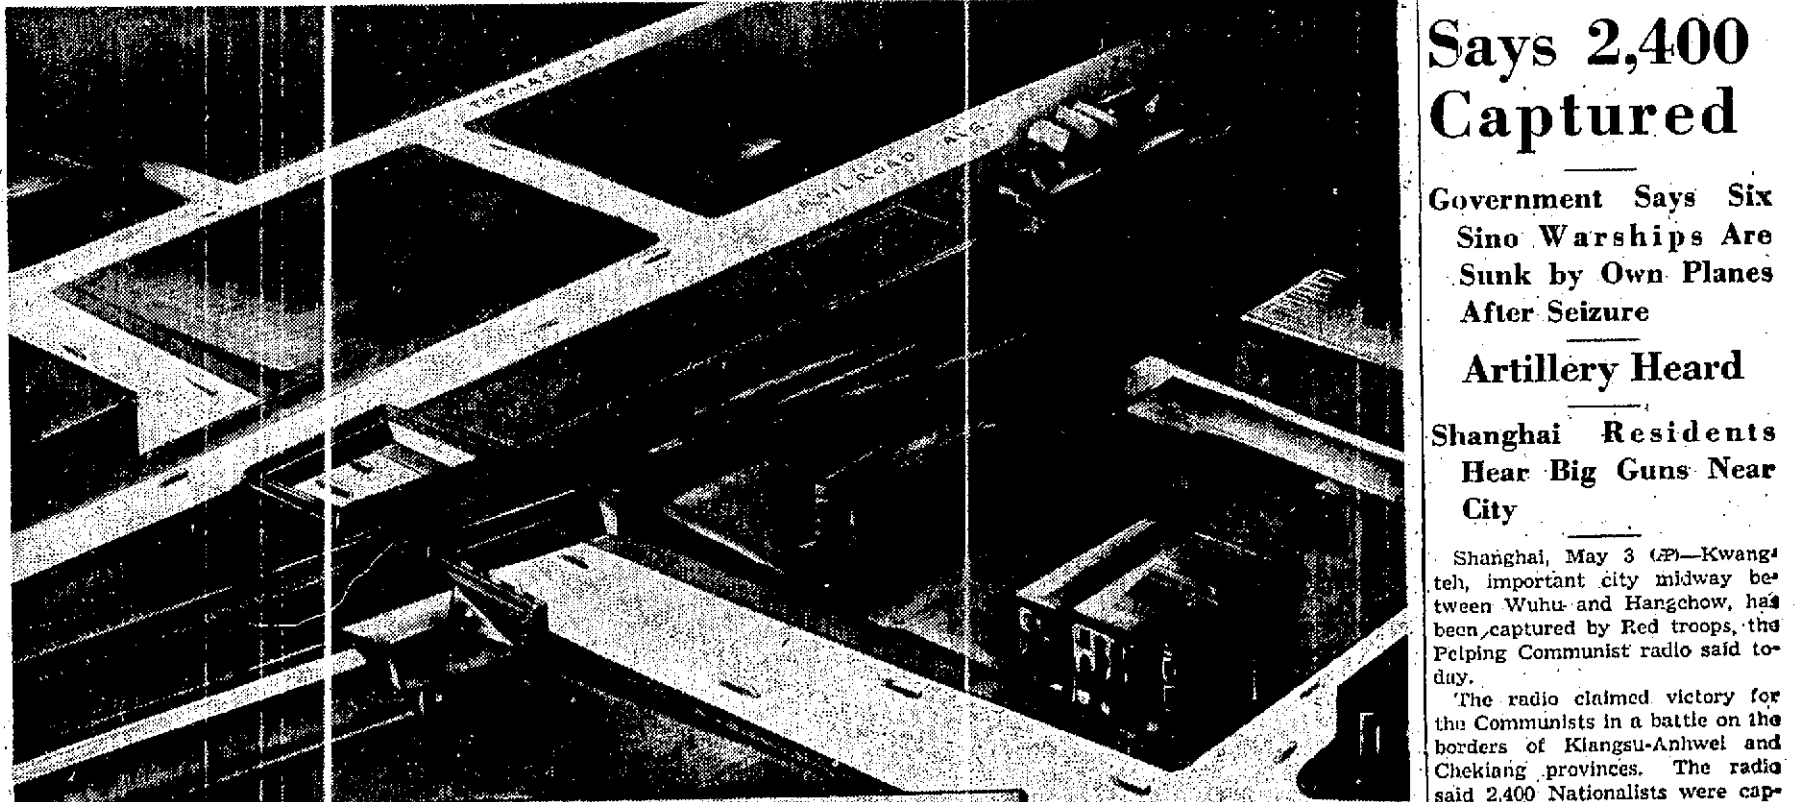

The governor, accompanied by Mrs. Dewey and his secretary, Paul E. Lockwood, sails Thursday from New York City on a six-week visit to England, France, Germany, Italy, Switzerland and the low countries.

At the news conference he said it was "strictly a vacation" in which he was traveling as a private citizen—not in any official capacity.

Minus the buildings which will line Broadway and also lacking the proposed access streets east and west of the railroad tracks, the State Bureau of Arterial Planning gives an idea of how Kingston's main stem will be depressed in conformity with plans for eliminating the city's most perilous crossing. Property owners will have the chance of the century in rehabilitating the area with architecturally attractive buildings, it was said. Bradley Says Defense Frontiers Are in Europe

Russia to Borrow From Own People

Idea Is to Spur Economy and Will Pay Off Loans in 20 Years

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley told senators today that America's defense frontiers lie "in the heart of Europe."

The army chief of staff was before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to urge approval of the 12-nation North Atlantic Security Alliance.

"Geographically," he said, "many of these member nations are already in positions where any aggression into western Europe would be a conquest of their homelands."

"I assure you that our frontiers of collective defense lie in common with theirs in the heart of Europe."

Bradley said the joint chiefs of staff are "in unanimous agreement" that in case of attack America's strategy will be to "carry the war back to the aggressor, ultimately subjugating the sources of his military and industrial power."

And he went on: "Plans for the common defense of the existing free world must provide for the security of western Europe without abandoning these countries to the terrors of another enemy occupation. Only upon that premise can nations closest to the frontiers be expected to stake their fortunes with ours in the common defense."

By inference, those remarks backed up the administration's plan to follow up the Atlantic Treaty with a program of help to other members to arm themselves.

Along that same line, Bradley stressed that in case of another (Continued on Page 5, Col. 3)

New York, May 3 (AP)—The three big western powers were reported today to be completing a joint declaration of policy on the Berlin blockade to lay before Russia within 24 hours.

Speculation in some quarters was that this would call for lifting the blockade as early as next week.

Frost Caused Loss In Fruit Areas; Clintondale Hit

Freezing temperatures which hit Ulster county last Friday morning caused extensive damage to some low-level orchards but apparently caused only light damage on the majority of orchards, a survey of fruit growers disclosed today.

Similar reports of low-level damage came from the New Paltz area, where higher locations escaped serious damage.

Answers Given to Queries On Local Housing Project

Applications for admission to the local housing project would not be made until about three months prior to completion of the proposed local project, the Kingston Housing Authority stressed in answering questions submitted in 26-point resolution of Fourth Ward Alderman John Buboltz.

The resolution and seven submitted by Twelfth Ward Alderman James E. Martin were adopted by the Common Council at its last session and aired at a recent joint meeting of the aldermen and the authority.

The answer to the Buboltz question said: "Applications for admission to project will not be acted upon until about three months prior to completion of said project. Until such time as the applications have been received and processed, the applicants interviewed and tenants selected, it will be impossible for anyone to give details demanded in this question."

Another answer to the Buboltz resolution emphasized that: "The entire amount of the city's subsidy will be derived from the tax exemption granted on the improvements to be located on the property in the Miller's Lane area."

Shanghai Residents Hear Big Guns Near City

Shanghai, May 3 (AP)—Kwangteh, important city midway between Wuhu and Hangchow, has been captured by Red troops, the Peiping Communist radio said today.

The radio claimed victory for the Communists in a battle on the borders of Kiangsu-Anhui and Chekiang provinces. The radio said 2,400 Nationalists were captured.

"The report has not been confirmed by any other source."

Efforts to telephone Hangchow, 121 miles southwest of here, brought the reply the lines were "out of order."

The Communist radio said also that Taung, 125 miles west of Peiping had been taken. The city, last Nationalist bastion north of the Yangtze except surrounded Tsingtao, on the coast, surrendered on May 1, the radio said.

Tsingtao is the base of the U. S. Western Pacific fleet.

A U. S. Navy spokesman said at a news conference that American, British and French naval vessels hurriedly departed from Shanghai last week to keep the Communists out of trapping them on the Whangpoo river. He said a Communist plot to scuttle a ship and block them from reaching the Yangtze and the sea had been uncovered.

The American spokesman said the navy still was ready to evacuate the 1,650 Americans remaining in Shanghai if it became necessary.

The big ships were moved down the Yangtze estuary, he said, to get them out of the reach of Wuenshan fortress guns, which may eventually fall into Communist hands.

A Nationalist garrison commander earlier said that six Chinese warships captured at Nanking by the Communists had been sunk by government planes. The assertion came a few hours after the rumble of artillery was heard to the northwest of Shanghai. There was no sign of approaching Reds. But the chaos in the financial market grew during the day.

The communists said the National Air Force in 10 days of bombing and strafing attacks had damaged two more of the 12 ships which had been left to guard Nanking and were trapped by the Communists. In addition the government announced its forces destroyed 10,000 Red troops, 600 trucks, 500 wooden river boats and 300 horse drawn carts.

(Chinese casualty figures frequently are exaggerated.)

Earlier the Communist radio announced a column of Red troops reached Kien, 200 miles southwest of Shanghai. Red guerrillas had been operating there, the radio said.

Artillery Is Heard

The sound of artillery fire here came before dawn. Apparently gunners were firing at river craft spotted in the darkness. The guns sounded as if they were 20 miles away.

During the day the press officer of U. S. Vice Adm. Oscar C. Badger returned to Shanghai and announced the navy was "still doing business at the same old stand."

American and British ships last week left the Whangpoo anchorage here and sailed down to the Yangtze estuary. The press officer said Admiral Badger, aboard his flagship U.S.S. Eldorado, had returned to Tsingtao, North China port used as the base for the U. S. western Pacific fleet.

Two American army officers who watched the Communists cross the Yangtze expressed the opinion here today the Reds would try to destroy Nationalist units south and west of Shanghai before striking at the big coastal cities.

The two Maj. Harold Gelwick of New York City and Capt. Daniel George of Windber, Pa., watched the Communists cross the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

P.T.A. Requests City Be Restrained

A resolution recently adopted by the Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 7 and forwarded to Herman T. Stichman, state commissioner of housing, asks that the Kingston Housing Authority "be restrained from making further dubious expenditures of city funds" pending further study. The resolution contained in the following letter to the commissioner follows:

The resolution holds it is the duty of the commissioner to determine beyond the question of a doubt that "certain requests, including proper school facilities, are met before he can legally approve a public housing project for any city."

It said also that "under date of Jan. 28, 1949, the superintendent of schools," stated in a letter to the local housing authority that "school facilities were not adequate at School No. 7, or at any nearby school for the accommodation of an additional 220 pupils."

The resolution also said that the Board of Education in a letter to the local authority dated March 31, "made certain ambiguous statements which might possibly have misled the state commissioner of public housing, and which were in variance with those of their fully qualified administrator."

Also mentioned in the resolution is the information that "certain parents of children now enrolled at School No. 7," recently wrote to the commissioner "calling his attention to hazardous and intolerable physical conditions in the school," and it said: "The commissioner stated that he would not permit the school to be broken until he conducted a separate and personal survey."

It then resolved that the commissioner "withdraw and revoke any approval or permissive orders that he may have issued in connection with any proposed public housing project in the City of Kingston."

The resolution also asked that the commissioner be requested to withhold any action on the project until "taxpayers of the city are satisfied wholly that it would qualify under the law from every angle including adequacy of schools."

The resolution also asked that the commissioner be requested to withhold any action on the project until "taxpayers of the city are satisfied wholly that it would qualify under the law from every angle including adequacy of schools."

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 3 (AP)—Loss in outnumbered gains in a sloving stock market today.

Changes either way were mainly in small fractions. Numerous shares either remained at Monday's closing levels or sawaw between higher and lower ground.

A fair amount of business was done, although after an overnight accumulation of orders had been executed at the opening, the ticker tape took frequent rests.

Price declines resulted more from dull buying appetites rather than any real selling pressure.

Lower prices were paid for Bethlehem Steel, Republic Steel, Goodyear, J. I. Case, United Aircraft, Schenley, American Telephone, Western Union, Electric Power & Light, American Can, Johns-Manville, Philip Morris, Radio Corp., Santa Fe, Central R. R. of New Jersey, Rheifield Oil, and Gulf Oil.

Higher were Youngtown Sheet, Bostlyn Union Gas, Cleveland Electric Illuminating, General Motors, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Sears, Roebuck, Westinghouse Electric, Owens-Illinois, Southern Railway, Atlantic Coast Line, Texas Co., and Twentieth Century-Fox.

Corporate bonds moved narrowly. U. S. Government bonds held steady in over-the-counter dealings.

A reduction in the price of copper by Phelps Dodge Corp., a major primary producer, had only a limited effect on the non-ferrous metal stocks. The move had been heralded by a couple of reductions by several refiners of the metal from scrap, a maneuver which did little to stimulate buying.

Alert Boards Are Real Block Against Reds in Education

The annual spring conference of District 5 of the New York State School Boards Association was held at Saugerties High School Monday night with about 60 members of area boards present.

Dr. Frederick H. Bair, chief of the bureau of curriculum development of the State Education Department, told the group that there is no need to fear infiltration of Communism in the schools as long as local education boards remain manned by "good common-sense citizens."

Alert local board members can do more toward combatting Communism in the schools than could state legislation, it was pointed out.

Much of the discussion by the members presented concerned building plans and materials following a talk by Dr. Don F. Essex, director of the division of school buildings and grounds of the State Education Department.

Legislation passed in 1949 dealing with education was explained by Everett R. Dyer, executive secretary of the State School Boards Association, Lewis F. Fellows, president of the Saugerties board, and the delegates.

Mrs. Mary K. Brod of New Rochelle, district chairman, presided at the meeting.

Late Bulletin

Cincinnati, May 3 (AP)—Leo Durocher, manager of the New York Giants, was reinstated today.

Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler said he heard no evidence sufficient to support a charge by Fred Boysen, a New York fan, that Durocher had assaulted him.

The little, belligerent manager of the Giants was told he could rejoin his team tomorrow.

Maps Are Taken

January 14 meeting of the former Justice Department analyst, and Gubitchev, suspended United Nations engineer.

In addition to tracing their movements January 14, the maps also showed how F.B.I. agents trailed the Russian the following morning.

Four F.B.I. agents, including a woman, who followed Miss Coplon and Gubitchev when they met in New York Feb. 18 waited to follow Gubitchev on the witness stand.

John M. Kelley, Jr., a prosecutor, identified the four as Thomas J. McAndrews, Miss Sappho Manos, T. Scott Miller, Jr., and Roger W. Robinson.

Kelley said all four took part in the trailing of Miss Coplon and Gubitchev when they met briefly in New York Feb. 18.

Later witnesses will testify how they followed Miss Coplon, 27, and Gubitchev, 32, in the hours preceding their arrest March 4.

Miss Coplon, a tiny brunette, is on trial in Federal Court here on charges of copying and removing secret data from Justice Department files. She and Gubitchev, a suspended United Nations employee, are scheduled for trial May 9 in New York on espionage conspiracy charges.

Four F.B.I. agents told yesterday how they "shadowed" Miss Coplon and Gubitchev Jan. 14—their first meeting mentioned by the prosecution.

taken in committee, send the entire matter back to the Labor Committee, or pass the bill and send it to the Senate. The votes were set up in that order.

Only in the House itself is a roll-call vote obtainable. When it sits as a committee, the House votes either by voice, with members shouting "aye" or "no," by standing vote, with members standing to be counted, or by teller vote, with members walking up the center aisle and being counted as they pass.

Chased Children
Following a complaint that a man had chased children with a gun on Hasbrouck avenue the police picked up a 12-gauge shot gun in a hallway at 405 Hasbrouck avenue. Officers Kenneth Stratton and Special Officer Clarence Cogswell investigated. The gun was not loaded, and was tagged and placed in the store room at police headquarters. The man charged with chasing the children could not be located.

Sino Reds Seize

Yangtze at Wuhu. George is military attaché of the U. S. Embassy and Gajewski, who was born in Hunan Province, is military attaché of the Shanghai consulate.

Both officers said the Reds opened their crossing of the river with a heavy artillery barrage. They said the Communists had little trouble in establishing beachheads on the south bank. Both expressed the opinion the Communists had considerable forces south of the river now. One said upwards of 200,000 Reds may now have crossed the Yangtze.

Likely the Reds have crossed the Yangtze in many places above Wuhu. This belief was strengthened by a report published by the Shanghai newspaper, "Ta Kung Pao," that government officials were leaving Nanchang, capital of Kiangsu Province southwest of here.

The approach of the Communists and economic collapse in Shanghai caused several Chinese newspapers to suspend publication.

The director of the city's emergency food procurement office said Shanghai has sufficient food for three months. He added, however, that a food shortage would develop if rice and flour now on order failed to arrive. He did not make clear whether a three months supply was in stock here or was partially in stock and partially on route.

No Cashiers' Orders
Headquarters of the Nanking-Shanghai-Hangchow garrison late today ordered commercial banks to discontinue the issuance of cashiers' orders. The action was an effort to remedy the chaotic financial situation following yesterday's order prohibiting silver dollar trading by sidewalk dealers. Only the central bank in the future will be permitted to issue cashiers' orders. They have been used as cash during the Shanghai currency shortage.

All orders were to be redeemed at face value within three days. Discounts up to 50 per cent had been made on some cashiers' orders.

More than 200 street hawkers of silver dollars were arrested. Police said they would be dealt with "in accordance with garrison orders." That could mean the death penalty.

There still was no report that Acting President Li Tsung-shan had left his Kwelin home and gone to Canton, where most of the Nationalist government is assembled.

Nationalist soldiers continued to move into Shanghai bund hotels and foreigners moved out. Most Americans concentrated at the Downtown American Club.

Sixty or more Americans and some 1,040 more evacuees will sail tomorrow aboard the American liner President Lin Gordon, which arrived this afternoon.

ROSENDALE NEWS

Grangers Honor Deitz at Dinner

Rosendale, May 2—Sixty-five Grangers were present to honor Past Worthy Master Floyd Deitz and his wife, Catherine, at the annual patron's dinner of Rosendale Grange 1501 held at the Grange hall Thursday evening. It also marked Mr. Deitz's 62nd birthday. Henry Mollenhauer, master of ceremonies, remarked that only six of the charter members, when the Grange was organized 23 years ago, were present. A seventh charter member, Mrs. Cornelius Hotelling, arrived later.

After a greeting of welcome from Worthy Master George Mollenhauer, Walter Williams of Williams Lake Hotel, was introduced as the first speaker of the evening. He related the story of when he first arrived, 21 years ago, to look over the property his father had purchased on the Fifth Avenue water tower known as Williams Lake. They came upon a quaint farmhouse, from which issued the strains of music and singing. It proved to be Floyd Deitz and his musical family. He told of the friendliness and hospitality of the Deitzs and the many years that Floyd with his orchestra, and offtimes just his accordion, has played for the entertainment of guests at the hotel and indicative of his enviable good sense of humor, his favorite song for the many newlyweds at the resort is "I Wish I Was Single Again."

Next on the program were "Pappy" Deitz's two singing sons of the Saddle, Robert Brazee and Ralph Palen, who entertained with several songs and ballads, all Deitz favorites, accompanied by their guitars.

Henry Mollenhauer then introduced Mrs. Edna Davis, teacher at the Cottickill school, who told of the many times Mr. Deitz has played for the school benefits and of his generous donations of time and efforts for the benefit of the school dental clinic. "The children say he is young because he laughs much and makes them laugh and is young with them."

Perhaps the greatest tribute was paid by Harry G. Krom, county assistant engineer for the State Highway Department, Floyd Deitz's "boss" on the road, when in mentioning various artists who have won fame and fortune with their musical ability, he went on to say Floyd Deitz, that "he is one whose music is from the heart, and the music that he plays is every day of his life, manifest in his personality and his good deeds, and is not counted in money but in friends, which are more valuable than money."

Mrs. Carrie Kraemer, in an impromptu talk, praised the Deitzs for being good neighbors in the true sense of the word.

Mrs. Peter LoBello, chairman of the service and hospitality committee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Deitz, presented Mr. Deitz with a portable phonograph and Mrs. Deitz with a necklace of pearls as tokens of appreciation from the members of Rosendale Grange. Among those present were Dr. and Mrs. L. G. Rymol, who had been accorded similar honor the previous year. The evening ended with a social hour of dancing and a game of golf ball. Assisting Mrs. Peter LoBello, Jr., chairman for the affair, were Mrs. Russell Tenture, Mrs. Edward Klepeis, Jr., Mrs. Ferdinand Fielder, Mrs. Gustav Claus, Mrs. Louis Mercurio, Mrs. George Mollenhauer, Mrs. Helen Aldridge, Miss June McGuire and Mrs. Myrtle Marx.

Wallin Names Four To Review Law

Albany, N. Y., May 3 (AP)—Regents Chancellor William J. Wallin announced today appointment of a committee of four Regents to study methods of carrying out the state's new law designed to bar Communists from public school jobs.

Wallin named Regents Wells V. Moot of Buffalo, George J. Himmelfarb of Binghamton, John J. Brosnan of New York city and Jacob L. Holtzmann of Brooklyn.

Appointment of the group was authorized by the 13-member Board of Regents April 22 for the purpose of surveying procedures available for implementing the new law. The act directs the Regents to maintain a list of organizations it finds subversive and adopt rules making membership in such groups a bar to employment in the public school system.

The bill stated in a preamble: "There is common report that members of subversive groups, and particularly the Communist party and certain of its affiliated organizations, have infiltrated to public employment in schools of the state."

Wallin said he and Regents Vice-Chancellor John P. Myers of Plattsburgh, would serve as ex-officio members of the committee. He said it probably would report on "necessary and desirable" steps at the Regents' next meeting, May 20.

BASEBALL SEASON
Baseball fans of the city and county are expected to give a warm welcome to the Colonials when they open the current season at the Municipal Stadium on Thursday evening.

A good baseball team advertises the city as well as providing healthful outdoor entertainment for hundreds of people. A big attendance at the opening game would be just the spark to give the local representatives a nice send-off in quest of the championship.

The promotion of sports is both a civic and social duty. You promote a civic patriotism by keeping the boys interested in home sports. Be a good sport and support the games. A good bunch of rooters helps to create a winning spirit.

A good sporting city is generally a good moral city.

Y. M. C. A. DRIVE
The current Y. M. C. A. financial drive merits the unstinted support of all residents of the community, because its program seeks to train these boys to useful citizenship.

By developing among our young people a spirit of sturdiness, self-reliance and a realization of the need for cooperative effort, the influence of the Y. M. C. A. should be expanded.

A vital community agency, the Kingston Y. M. C. A. conducts an annual financial campaign in order to continue and further its program. Through the years, the local institution has played an important part in civic responsibility and having done so it deserves the generous backing of the community.

Solicitors will call to receive your contributions. Here is your opportunity to share in its program.

RUSSIAN WRITINGS
A curious fact has been unearthed by the Library of Congress, surveying the Russian literary and scholarly book product of the last few years. This is that though Russian books in plenty have been written on early Russia, and on the reign of Peter the Great, not a single Russian volume has appeared summarizing the Soviet achievement in the 30 years of its existence.

The reason is obvious. No writer wishes to stick his neck out and put down on paper something that might later incur the wrath of authorities. Even in the United States a literary politician sometimes wishes he had not written something that later is used against him. Woodrow Wilson was an example. In his "History of the American People" he criticized the European immigrants, an utterance which his enemies later quoted against him. But in Russia the consequences of saying the wrong thing may be more serious. The writer may not merely have political troubles; he may lose his livelihood, his liberty, or his life.

Writing, and indeed all form of thought, are hazardous occupations in the Soviet state, or in any totalitarian state.

There is always someone discovering the world and getting quite a "kick" out of it.

LEADING YOUTH
An Eastern college of education has instituted a summer course entitled "Creating a Zeal For Democracy". It is designed to help teachers to imbue their students with enthusiasm for the American way of living. Its sponsors say they have noted among teachers an "increasing lack of faith in democracy", and are taking this means to combat the tendency.

A superficial knowledge of foreign ideologies, coupled with an incomplete understanding of the forces which made America and which keep it strong and vital, combine to make some teachers, and other people, weak advocates of democracy.

One attribute common to those who attempt to spread the gospel of Communism is an enthusiasm which amounts to a religious zeal. If leaders of the young are to instill into them an appreciation of freedom and democracy, they must be well grounded in knowledge of our institutions and fired

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

POLICY AND PRINCIPLE
The conduct of our foreign policy used to be guided by fixed principles based upon our history and experience. Those principles may be summarized as follows:

1. While the United States associates itself in cooperative international efforts, it forms no offensive-defensive alliances, arranges no secret treaties, and accepts no responsibilities which involve this country in automatic war.

The tradition for this policy was laid down in George Washington's farewell address. It is governed by the constitutional provisions which require senatorial ratification of treaties and a declaration of war only by the Congress of the United States. Secrecy was to have been prevented by the appointment of those charged with the conduct of foreign affairs and Congress appropriates the funds for their work. By this means, it was intended that Congress should investigate, if not supervise, Executive conduct.

This has been dropped or, by-passed, with few exceptions, since 1933. We have entered into an offensive-defensive alliance which is now before the Senate for ratification; we have made war automatically; we have had many secret arrangements (Quebec, Tehran, Singapore, Yalta and others); we have faced Congress with many faits accomplis which they could not discredit. We have permitted officials to be appointed to do one kind of work while they actually perform another.

2. It has since the declaration of the Monroe Doctrine (1823) been American policy that the territorial and administrative integrity of any American country should not be changed by the force of another nation. This principle was extended to apply to other countries in the Open Door Policy of John Hay (1899), the Nine-Power Treaty (1922), and the Stimson Doctrine (1931) and the Truman Doctrine.

Naturally, the United States has not always been able to make its policy apply in every instance. Even with regard to Mexico the policy failed, for a time, when Maximilian was set up as emperor. But it was a sound doctrine and so far as the United States is concerned, it was usually applied in the form of non-recognition; as, for instance, our unwillingness to recognize Japan's conquest of Manchuria.

That policy has been abandoned. It was abandoned by Franklin D. Roosevelt when he flirted with Hitler over Munich; it was abandoned completely at Tehran, Yalta and Potsdam and in the current attitude toward China. In fact, no policy has been substituted for it. The United States moves day by day by what might be called the law of necessity, which no one can define.

3. It has been American policy since the war of 1812 that American life and often property are sacred wherever they may be and that the American writ is to be respected everywhere. Actually, in 1911, the United States under President Taft, ended certain treaty relations with Russia over this question.

We have permitted the imprisonment of American fliers in uniform by Soviet Russia, the killing of Americans everywhere, the seizure of American property and, in effect, the house arrest of the American ambassador in China. We do not know of all the outrages committed against American life and property the world over, nor the abuse of our flag, and the ignoring of the hush-hush policy of the State Department. A congressional investigation of the subject is in order with a full disclosure of the facts to the American people.

This is only a cursory mention of the departure from principle and purpose. Our foreign policy has become "practical" on a fire-sale basis; that is, if you can't do it one way, do it another without regard to honor, dignity and national pride.

Take, for instance, this matter of the American naval vessels changing their positions to avoid Communists in the Whangpoo river off Shanghai. In 1925, the Communists tried to drive us out, but we respected the American flag then. When the Japanese fired on the "Panay," we got an apology and damages—but fast. Now we move away from racial Chinese Communists. How low we have sunk in our self-respect.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

AN ORGANIZATION TO FIGHT EPILEPSY

When I was a youngster I saw a woman suffering from an epileptic seizure carried from a theatre by two big, strong men. I felt very sorry for the patient and also for the husband who followed down the aisle. I felt that, in the days to come, I would try to learn more about epilepsy and how to prevent attacks. Since that day much has been done about epilepsy—learning its nature, the different types that occur, how to prevent attacks and what to do for a patient during an attack.

I have written from time to time about the "American Epilepsy League," Boston, and the great help it has been and continues to be in fighting epilepsy. It would seem only fair that we should learn more about another organization in New York City known as the National Association to Control Epilepsy.

While the cause of epilepsy is still unknown, the Association states that there are certain conditions, one or more of which are present in epileptics. That one or more of which are present in epileptics. That one or more of which are present in epileptics. That one or more of which are present in epileptics.

Fortunately, physicians have new drugs to prevent and control epilepsy, the barbiturates being the greatest help.

Another forward step is that physicians by means of a new instrument, the electroencephalograph—which records brain waves—can diagnose epilepsy from the type of seizure and so prescribe proper treatment immediately.

For those who may consider what to do for an epileptic during an attack, the Association states that attacks run their own course so that nothing need be done for the patient except to prevent him from hurting himself. A handkerchief or rolled newspaper placed between the back teeth on one side prevents injury to the tongue. Remove hot, sharp or other objects that may cause injury. "If in doubt do NOTHING."

Diet Suggestions in Epilepsy
Attacks of epilepsy may be very greatly lessened and even prevented by more attention to diet. with real enthusiasm for them. Otherwise they will be no match for the propagandists of Communism.

General pleasure was the rule recently at the news that, after confinement that began in 1944, the 77-year-old Cordell Hull had been released from the hospital. It seems safe to predict that he will go down in history as the secretary of state who holds the all-time record, 11 years, for length of service. Moreover this long service was during a period which saw the rise of Germany and Japan and ended on the eve of their downfall.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Washington — The American housewife doesn't know it, but more and more of the food she buys for her family contains the same basic "ersatz" ingredients which I. G. Farben, the notorious Nazi cartel, developed for German troops and civilians in the last war. The German people lived on "ersatz" during most of the war.

The extent of this Farben-izing of American food, unbeknown to the consumer, has been partially investigated by the Food and Drug Administration, which has been holding hearings on the use of synthetic substitutes for milk and shortening in bread.

However, the whole story hasn't been told the public, chiefly because of official buckpassing. Food and Drug officials, wringing their hands and saying they have no authority under the law for a full-fledged investigation. They admit, however, that more and more chemical substitutes are being used in various foods and that they do not know what the final result will be on the health of the nation.

Meanwhile Republican Representative Frank Keefe of Wisconsin, who has been quizzing the Food and Drug Administration, has made some startling disclosures about what goes into many of the things we eat. Keefe charges:

1.—That bread can and is being chemicalized to a point where it has little if any nutritional value;

2.—That non-nutritional chemicals, "mostly the result of the work of I. G. Farben chemists," are being palmed off on the unsuspecting public in place of milk, fats and eggs in such foods as cake, doughnuts, cereal mixes, peanut butter, ice cream, candy, salad dressing, milk drinks, synthetic whipping cream, pickles and food flavors.

3.—Manufacturers and pharmaceutical houses that produce synthetic foodstuffs have not made adequate research to determine if the substitutes are poisonous. While there is no proof of toxicity in most of the substitutes, Keefe points out that seven persons died after using a substitute salt prepared for people who cannot use organic salt in their diet.

Taste Comes Ahead of Nutrition
The synthetic ingredient which many bakers now use in bread is a compound of polyoxyethylene glycol and stearic acid, known as polyoxyethylene monostearate. Stearic acid is derived from animal fats, but polyoxyethylene glycol, a substance similar to purified anti-freeze for automobiles, has no nutritional value.

I. G. Farben experimented widely with polyoxyethylene glycol as a base for "ersatz" German foods during the war.

The American compound is produced chiefly by the Atlas Powder Company of Wilmington, Del., and Glyco Products Company of Brooklyn and is distributed in slightly different forms under the trade names "Sta-Soft" and "MYR-45." Both keep bread soft for a long period, so that a housewife who feels a loaf in a grocery store thinks she is getting oven-fresh bread.

In fact, this deceptive quality—plus a pleasing taste the chemical gives to bread—is the chief selling point of its distributors. Vernon C. Usher, Inc. of Chicago, which makes a somewhat similar synthetic compound called "Top-Score," frankly states, in its literature to the baking trade:

"In speaking of higher quality, we mean products that not only look good, but are appealing to the sense of taste as well. Bakery goods that are not overburdened with fats and other richness less is eaten."

"We believe that every person—man, woman or child—eats and drinks only that which appeals to the sense of taste, with little or no thought of nutritious value; so, we emphasize, again, that higher quality bakery goods, in our opinion, are attained by balancing formulas to a point where they are not overburdened with rich substances which, in the end, tend to discourage and decrease consumption."

Agriculture Department Warning
One government agency that is carefully watching on this nutritional question is the Department of Agriculture. The department fears not only higher support prices for surplus dairy products, costing the taxpayers millions, but a serious economic threat to dairy farming if baking chemicals come into wide vogue.

In a confidential report prepared for Agriculture Secretary Charles Brannan, Ralph Trigg, chief of the Production and Marketing Division, points out:

"It is our opinion that the department should object to the approval of chemical softeners as acceptable ingredients in baking formulas, because of the effect on the health of the nation, since evidence indicates that the substitution of chemical softeners for fats, eggs and milk considerably reduces the food value of the product."

If the facts warrant, and if the Food and Drug Administration, because of statutory limitations, is unable to prevent or limit the use of synthetics as substitutes for natural foods in bakery products, we would further suggest that the department request new legislation on this matter."

Truman On New Mexico
When the President is pleased, his face lights up and two dimples pop into his cheeks. Thus his face gave him away the other day over prospects of returning to old haunts in New Mexico.

He was invited to slip down to Santa Fe this fall for the 100th anniversary of New Mexico's pioneer paper, the Santa Fe New Mexican. Making the plea was General Manager George N. Reynolds, who called at the White House with New Mexico's two senators, Dennis Chavez and Clinton Anderson.

Truman wouldn't make any flat promises to attend, but he recalled with a chuckle his early experiences in the state. He had visited New Mexico in 1909 and times he had stopped to rummage through an old curio shop and chat with the owner, the late J. S. Candelario. One prize item Candelario showed off was a trunk which he said had belonged to Lew Wallace, early New Mexican governor and author of "Ben Hur."

Truman recalled how Candelario had sold him with a broad wink. "It I told that one, it will be the ninth one I have sold."

Chuckling so that his dimples showed, the President also recalled another of Candelario's cracks. It seems he used to exhibit a small skull which he claimed was that of Napoleon. Once a doubting woman customer had asked whether the skull wasn't too small to have been Napoleon's.

"Well, that was his skull when he was a boy," the President quoted the old curio keeper's reply.

Truman explained he had returned to Santa Fe in 1924 to help erect a monument to pioneer mothers. (Copyright, 1949, The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

To Avoid Cuts
Throw away cracked or badly chipped crockery and glass; wrap broken glass carefully when you throw it away so that the next handler will be forewarned; keep knives in a special rack or drawer; when using a knife always cut away from you; never open a tin can with any implement other than a can opener, especially not with a knife, as the pressure needed to open a can may result in the danger of slipping and jabbing.

McNarney Reveals Development of 6-Ton Guided Bomb, Reports 'Great Progress' in Increasing Speeds of Missiles
By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 3—Now comes General Joseph T. McNarney to reveal that the air force will have ready within a year a 12,000-pound bomb that can be guided all the way to the target. He says also that American research engineers have made "great progress" recently toward development of devices to guide missiles with speeds up to 700 miles an hour and with ranges of 5,000 miles.

This is soothing news for the navy folks who may be feeling depressed about the cancellation of their super-carrier. For it could mean the cancellation of the super-bomber of the air forces as "obsolete," too, within a short while.

It raises the question as to whether the air force should be permitted to spend billions of dollars for bombers that are not to be used and, indeed, whether the airplane itself isn't on the way out.

If the secretary of defense, Louis Johnson, hasn't yet drafted "consolidation directive number five," he might logically be writing it. For the passion to concentrate everything in one place here finds a ready outlet in the matter of guided missiles.

Today guided missiles are being developed by the army, by the navy, and by the air force. Just this "overlapping" and "duplication" of effort shouldn't be a new branch of the armed services be created with a status equal to the army, the navy and the air force? Why shouldn't the Guided Missile Force come into being with a general to represent it on the joint chiefs of staff?

The thinking heretofore at the Pentagon Building has been that all weapons of one class belong in one service and that it is a mistake to allow the navy to develop any airplanes for long range strategic bombing or anything against the navy's carrier—another five years may see the present weapons obsolete altogether. (Reproduction rights reserved) have a real claim now. Guided missiles are more like artillery than any other weapon. Logically, the guided missiles could form a new service that would include all guns that shoot into the air. President Truman, as an ex-artilleryman, can appreciate how long neglected the field artillery has been and what its claims now are for control of all guided missiles. A good case can be made for the Guided Missile Force as a separate entity detached from the army.

It is true that this would make four separate services but that's what unification has brought anyway. There used to be only two services and now there are three. Since the chief reason for a separate air force was that it had a new weapon, there seems to be logic in the idea of a separate force to handle guided missiles. There, of course, has been talk of a separate service to take care of submarines but this is in its incipient stages as yet. Some day when submarines are able to come to the surface and launch airplanes, the guided missiles, there will be a debate as to which of the existing services shall have the honor of annexing the submarines. But that's in the future.

Meanwhile, the Congress is spending considerable sums on guided missiles. In a sense, this is a mistake. The new doctrine enunciated by the recent order cancelling the navy's research and development of a new carrier aircraft is that there must be no new weapons introduced unless the air force agrees to it in advance. The guided missile appropriations amount to many hundreds of millions of dollars. Plainly the whole guided missile program should be reviewed and re-examined because it may well be that it is unwise to spend so much on super-bombers for long range strategic bombing or anything against the navy's carrier—another five years may see the present weapons obsolete altogether. AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The American public recently has seen two more displays of fatuous conceit in well-known and pretentious characters who hadn't the intelligence to run their own little political affairs, yet presume to guide the nation and the world.

This refers to Dorothy Thompson and Franklin P. Adams, otherwise known to a vanishing clientele as F. P. A.

Miss Thompson is a cosmic journalist of quavering judgment in her personal concerns which are always to her of the dearest sanctity. In this she resembles Marshall Field, the little man who wasn't there. She is well remembered, with a patronizing tolerance, for her suggestion in 1940 that the solemn referendum be called off in practical defiance of the European crisis of the hour.

That Moosejaw I re-elected by political alchemy rather than constitutional process. This would have been a saving, to be sure, and the historic fraud of the Trojan horsemen who caused the nomination of Wendell Willkie, a Democrat, as the Republican candidate, would have been averted, but the net result, might have been even worse than it is. We might have acquired a king-president in the person of the eaglet, Jimmy Roosevelt, upon the passing of him whose death, or life, as you prefer, is never to be adequately mourned.

Miss Thompson is, nevertheless, a courageous fighter for her fallacies and even for good principles when chance guides her to the course of wisdom. She has been liked up and almost extinguished of late for treading where others fear to.

Adams is a professional lint-picker and penny-ante poetaster. He made a career of heckling and humiliating underprivileged journalists in several New York newspapers, "columns" of the old B.L.T. addition by nosing out petty errors in their copy. In this practice he always had a pull in the weights until he went out of his class to pick on Joseph Medill Patterson, the publisher of the New York News, in the wild, regardless infancy of that phenomenon, Captain Patterson, a pugnaclous fellow in print as well as in the alley, called Mr. Adams outside said morning in the leading editorial of his raucous little pitcher-paper and left him hanging by his own gory stripes. It was a keeping-place and a comeuppance long due.

Since he withered on the vine, Mr. Adams has sprouted again as one of the three wise guys of information Please, with a plausible fund of pseudo-facts and copy-deck minutiae such as many a stumped scholar wasted on the boozy air of Perry's, the Steuben and kindred hangouts of ink-stained wretches when we were very young.

Once Adams ran for the Connecticut legislature as a member of the supercilious cult of away-from-it-alls around Westport and was knocked for raw by converted salt-box attesters. This was the year Clifton (Killer) Fadiman, the interlocutor of Information Please, announced that he was going to wring the neck of civility by way of frustrating the Hon. Clare Boothe Luce, who represented that constituency in Congress. Killer Fadiman, known as the Butterflies of the literary teas, wrote no more, although there were plenty of necks unstrung in Germany at the time. La Luce licked the entire first team of the Democratic party, including Moosejaw I in person, as well as the whole squad of Union Square quarterbackes, including the Killer. That gives you some idea of this ladderback proletariats who

Questions—Answers So They Say...

Q—What were the principles laid down in the Monroe Doctrine in 1823?
President Monroe announced that the United States would remain neutral in the political affairs of Europe and that there was to be no colonization and no intervention by European countries in the Americas.

Q—Do elephants lie down to sleep?
A—The Asiatic elephant often lies down when resting and sleeping. This is in marked contrast to the African species, which does so rarely except to roll in mud or rub itself against an anthep.

Q—When was John Massfield appointed poet laureate of England?
A—Massfield succeeded Robert Bridges as poet laureate in 1930. He is said to have attracted the attention of King George V by his narrative poem, "Reynard the Fox."

Q—What is a child's average vocabulary?
A—The average 12-year-old child's familiar with the meaning of 7200 words and the average 14-year-old with 9000 words.

Q—Where did the ballet dance originate?
A—Ballet, a dance performance in mimic action to the accompaniment of music, originated in Italy and France in the 15th century. It was later used as an entity in itself the opera. As an entity in itself it reached its perfection in the Russian Ballet.

and sustained rise in the living standard of America."

And a Canadian, President Henry G. Birks, of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, Montreal, proposed an "ABC" committee of American, British and Canadian businessmen to labor for the freeing of world trade from currency and other trade barriers.

Such a committee could do much, Birks predicted, to promote the economic cooperation which he said is essential to the success of the North Atlantic Alliance.

Shreve and Birks agreed that, in the words of Shreve, "the chances of enduring peace have improved" through signing of the Atlantic Pact. The U. S. Chamber president said:

"So long as the west remains strong and shows determination to resist the expansion of Russia, peace should be maintained."

Bradley Says

European war, a bridgehead on the continent must be held.

"In World War II," he said, "we had the costly experience of making, on the Normandy beaches, the greatest amphibious assault in history to gain a toe-hold in Europe from which we could launch the final attack for victory."

21,000 Casualties

"That beachhead cost the United States 21,000 casualties in the first 10 days. I was commander in that sea-to-land assault and I hope that the occasion shall never arise when I might again be called upon to participate in such a hazardous and costly operation."

Bradley went on to say he has no doubt that the western European democracies, if given "the means to resist" will "contest resolutely any threat of aggression."

Bradley said these are some of the things the United States can expect to gain by the collective security pact:

"First, 11 friendly nations assure us that they will stand with us."

"Second, 11 friendly nations signify that, to the limit of their abilities to resist, no aggressor could count them among his satellites."

"And again from a purely military standpoint, the combined population of these 12 nations is more than 300,000,000 of people—an important military-political factor to the group of nations, and especially to our nation, in the event we are ever called upon to defend ourselves in another total war."

"Fourth, the industrial potential of our 11 friends is not small. Their combined steel production in 1948 is estimated at 37,000,000 tons, while we produced 29,000,000 tons in the United States. Their natural resources, and their ability to manufacture the weapons of war as well as the basic life-giving commodities of peace, are important contributions to the security of the western world. And like the population question, the transfer of the industrial potential of any of these nations, from our combination to any aggressor, would be a double liability."

Meter 'Take' Gains

Spring brought a slight boost in the city's parking meter collections. The completed report at the city treasurer's office showed today. The total collected in April was $3,387 and this was $231 above the March figure. It was the highest collection this year, and the total to date is $12,204.

Trial of Cousins

shooting last November 21 of Martin M. Kittell, 48.

Kittell's body was found in the roadway of a farm, a mile north of Hudson. He had been beaten and shot in the head, at least four times.

The state claims that Harvell and Allgood held up Kittell in the city, robbed him of $680, forced him into his car and drove out of the city. The car struck a tree, Kittell allegedly was shot after they had gotten out of the vehicle and he had turned on his captors.

Harvell and Allgood were indicted on charges of first-degree murder, first-degree robbery, first-degree assault, kidnapping and grand larceny.

Moving for separate trials, Daniel H. Prior, Harvell's counsel, and John J. Scully, attorney for Allgood, said they believed the major part of the people's case was based on alleged confessions.

The counsel argued that if the youths were tried together, one's confession could be used against the other.

Police claim that Harvell made a statement last Nov. 24 that involved Allgood and resulted in charges being placed.

Justice Bookstein, after granting a prosecution motion that the trial be started immediately, ordered a panel of 150 extra jurors drawn. Seventy-five were to report today and 75 tomorrow.

Three Powers Plan

bassard-at-large, denied reports that a four-power meeting had been scheduled at 1 p. m. (noon E.S.T.) in his office at 2 Park avenue.

The joint declaration will propose dates both for lifting the blockade and convening the council of foreign ministers for a discussion of the whole German question. It was understood.

Officially, Jessup and the British and French representatives—Sir Alexander Cadogan and Jean Chauvel—maintained the secrecy which has surrounded the 10 weeks of talks since Jessup first talked to Russia's Jakob A. Malik on the subject.

Usually well informed quarters, however, said it would be safe to speculate on these dates in connection with the western position—May 11 for ending the blockade and May 25 for the council of foreign ministers.

Russia's two top representatives here, Malik and Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, spent the morning at Lake Success where they are delegates to the United Nations Assembly.

Frost Caused Loss

not in full bloom saved the orchards from greater loss, growers reported. Blossoms which had not quite opened are not as susceptible to damage as those in full bloom, it was pointed out.

The size of the crop will depend a great deal on the type of weather encountered in the next several weeks. If the growers get good pollinating weather, the buds which escaped freezing will "set" well and the frost damage will be overcome in a large degree.

Planes Seek Body

Palisades, N. Y., May 3 (AP)—Dozens of planes swept over the lower Hudson river today in search for the body of a flight instructor who died Saturday when his plane crashed in the river off Palisades. Other searchers combed the west bank of the Hudson for the body of Charles Greger, 45, of (Midland avenue) Nyack. A student escaped when Greger's plane crashed into the river.

Authorities said the search by civilian fliers who were friends of Greger extended from the George Washington bridge to Piermont, N. Y.

Will Hold Mass

VINCENT P. JOYCE

The body of P.F.C. Vincent Paul Joyce will arrive Friday at the West Shore station on the 2:30 p. m. train. The body will be taken to the Jensen and Deegan Funeral Home. A mass of requiem for the repose of his soul will be offered Saturday at 9:30 a. m. in St. Joseph's Church. Burial will take place in St. Mary's Cemetery.

P.F.C. Joyce was killed in action on Okinawa, May 5, 1945. He entered service March 25, 1942 and received his basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C. with the 77th Division. He was sent overseas with this outfit. Prior to fighting on Okinawa, Joyce served with his division through the battles of Guam, Leyte, Kerama Retto and Ie Shima. He was wounded on Leyte and received the Purple Heart. He also received the combat infantry badge for "outstanding service and exemplary conduct" following operations of the 307th Regiment, 77th Division, during the battle for Guam.

Prior to entering service he attended Kingston High School and after leaving school was employed at William Strong Nursery, Stone Ridge.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Kathleen Joyce Ostrander; and son, Vincent Joyce of Guyton street; a sister, Mrs. Marie DuBois of Lodi, N. J.; two brothers, Joseph and Francis of Kingston. Full military honors will be accorded the soldier by Kingston Veterans' Association.

Stolen Car Found At Broken Hydrant

An auto which Meyer Basch, 173 Hasbrouck avenue, reported stolen at 11:30 p. m., Monday was found on Linderman avenue an hour later after it had been damaged in an apparent collision with a hydrant.

A police report said that Dave Breitenbacker, of Hillsworth avenue reported at 12:25 a. m. today that he had noticed the car against the hydrant which was broken off and spouting water into the air.

Officers Walter Van Steenburgh and Francis Fagan, who were dispatched to the area, found the car on Linderman avenue between Washington avenue and Wall street. They said it was badly damaged on its front and bore evidence that the driver had crashed against its windshield and suffered an injury. Blood stains were found on the upholstery. A check of hospitals by Capt. William T. Roedel, was without result.

Ingrid Hunts Her Answer for Love, Husband, Director

Rome, May 3 (AP)—Like any girl in love, Ingrid Bergman walked Stromboli's sunny shore today hunting a design for happy living.

In her heart was the answer to a question which might have been lifted from one of her Hollywood scripts:

Did she love Roberto Rossellini, stormy genius of Italy's film world, as Italian newspapers reported?

Or were there more happy years ahead with her doctor-husband, Peter Aron Lindstrom, whose marriage with the actress has for years been about as near an idyl as Hollywood could boast?

Nobody knew the answer—except the 31-year-old film star.

But Robert Conway of the New York Daily News, who talked with her for four hours on Stromboli, said Miss Bergman had "tacitly confirmed" that she is in love with Rossellini.

Conway quoted Ingrid as saying she and Rossellini "wanted to keep it quiet."

She refused to deny that she will divorce Dr. Lindstrom, father of her daughter, Conway cabled his paper.

But Dr. Lindstrom still had to be heard from.

His dramatic halfway-around-the-world flight from Los Angeles resulted in a face-to-face meeting with his wife, film critics said.

What the results were no one knew.

Another question mark was whether Rossellini was free to marry. He has been separated from the mother of his children for some years, Italian press reports said. But there has been no confirmation of rumors that he received a recent Hungarian divorce.

Rossellini, producer of "Paisan" and "The Open City," and Miss Bergman are making a picture, "Of God's Earth," on Stromboli, a volcanic island between Sicily and Italy.

Some cynics, taking note of the film in the making, still thought the real-life romance might be a publicity stunt. But most reporters seemed to be taking it seriously.

Local Man Is Held On Sodomy Charge

City Judge Raymond J. Mino adjourned hearing until tomorrow on a charge of sodomy against Thomas Allen Seward, 21, of 39 Van Buren street, who was arrested early this morning.

The complaint, which led to the arrest, was received by police headquarters from the Boulevard at 3:28 a. m., and Officers Walter Van Steenburgh and Francis Fagan were dispatched to investigate.

Seward is currently on probation following appearance some time ago in county court.

X-Rays, Radium Save Women Suffering Cancer of Cervix

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE, Associated Press Science Reporter
Ann Arbor, Mich., May 3 (AP)—X-rays and radium now are saving 40 to 50 per cent of women treated here for cancer of the cervix. This is exactly twice as many as were cured a dozen years ago. By cured is meant five-year cures—that the women still are living five years after their cancers were first found and treated. This solid new gain in healing cancer is reported by Dr. Isadore Lampe, radiation therapist at the university hospital, University of Michigan.

Cancer of the cervix, the neck of the uterus or womb, is the second most common site of cancer in women. The 100 per cent boost in five-year cures was achieved not with new drugs or magic, but with two of the oldest and only sure treatments for cancer. They are X-rays and radium. Surgery is the third major effective weapon against cancer.

The saving in lives came through better knowledge and improvements in the use of radiation treatments. Dr. Lampe said. The work shows what skillful use of radiation can do in stopping this kind of cancer. The figures showing these results are based on actual follow-ups of thousands of women, made possible by an unusual and thorough system of keeping good records.

This system was started in 1936 by a cancer committee at the university hospital. Simple but careful records are kept on every case of cancer, what kind, and what treatment is received. All the information is entered on cards that can be run through special tabulating machines, widely used in business.

The social service staff follows through on every patient, checking twice a year if possible. Some return for more treatments. The records are kept until the person dies, whether from cancer, old age, accident, or any cause. All pertinent facts are entered on the cards. A person may have only two cards, or up to 100.

Cards Are Collected
Such cards now have been collected on nearly 20,000 cancer patients. Many of them are well and apparently free of the disease.

This system has three main benefits, Dr. Lampe said. The hospital now knows exactly how many persons it has treated, how they were treated, and how they are faring. The information is almost entirely complete for everyone treated. Thirdly, the cards can be run through the machines to see how effective the treatments have been, and what has happened to people with any particular kind of cancer.

Dr. Lampe studied cancer of the cervix through this method. In 1932-35, he said, only 20 to 25 per cent of women treated by radiation were surviving for five years. Now the number is 40 to 50 per cent.

"This has been accomplished even though we aren't finding the cancers any earlier," he said. "The earlier cancer is caught, however, the chance for survival. Seventy-five to 100 per cent of women can be saved if cancer of the cervix is detected very early. If treatment is started extremely late, their chances range from zero to five per cent."

"In treating cancer, we can't wait until some sure-cure is found. A sure-cure for one kind of cancer, or sovereign cure for all kinds, may not be found for years, or ever. We must learn how to do the best job we can with the tools we now have. The statistics that we now have give us a way of measuring accurately whether we are using them better, and the effect of improvements that are developed."

Generally championship tournaments are held over a weekend, beginning Friday and ending on Sunday. Regional championships, however, require an entire week of play, and these regional tournaments have good representation from all the surrounding states.

The recent Eastern States regional championships tournament in New York had a schedule which was spread out over a month. The mixed pair events was held on one Sunday, while the mixed team event was held on the following Sunday. Although the participants this year were mostly from metropolitan New York, most of the events were larger than usual. A new event was tried out this year and proved quite popular. It was a one-session individual contest, in which the players play with different partners each round and against different opponents. The popularity of the event was proven when the entry list went up to 172 players. It resulted in a tie for first place between Robert Henry Cohen and Louis Kellner, both of New York City. Correct handling of the trump situation in today's hand helped Mr. Cohen to win. The opening lead of the jack of clubs was won in dummy with the ace and the ace of spades was immediately cashed. Declarer then led a small heart from dummy to the queen.

Now the problem was how to play the spade suit. Mr. Cohen did not make the mistake of laying down the jack of spades. He knew he had to hold his spade losers to two, so he made the correct play of a small spade. Thus he lost only two trumps and one diamond.

RESCUERS WORKING TO FIND SKIER IN CREVASSE

A human chain passes equipment toward the crevasse (arrow) into which a skier, Harvard Prof. Paul Schiller, 35, fell. The 150-foot crevasse is three miles up Mount Washington in New Hampshire. Melting snows hindered the search and made mountain experts believe that, even if Schiller had survived the fall, there was little chance that he could live long in the crevasse which was filling rapidly. Later his body was recovered. (NBA Telephoto)

"Slum Clearance"
The Strand,
Rondout,
May 1, 1949

Editor, The Freeman,
The proponents of the Miller's Lane project keep talking about slum clearance, which it isn't. For a similar way the late Mayor LaGuardia spent countless millions of the taxpayer's money, in the name of slum clearance, to build enormous housing projects on vacant marginal areas in Manhattan, Queens and The Bronx, leaving the lower East side slums untouched, and further increasing subway congestion.

If we'd forget Miller's Lane and replace the pitiful hovels on say Ann street, Chambers street and West Strand with modern structures, that would really be slum clearance and would not be opposed.

Princess Sings 'Minnie'

London, May 3 (AP)—The future queen of England sang "Minnie the Moocher" at the Palladium Theatre last night. Princess Elizabeth, along with the rest of the audience, joined the American comedian Danny Kaye in several choruses of the song. It was the third time since Kaye's British premiere last year that the Princess and Prince Philip had seen him perform. They sat in the audience for some 50 minutes and then went backstage to talk with Kaye for another 45 minutes.

brought social conscience to the Yankees and the Irish along the New Haven.

Miss Thompson recently wrote an abject essay entitled "How I Was Duped by a Communist" in which she confessed that she took in and was taken in by a political fugitive from Hitler's apparatus who, like thousands of other such ingrates, posed as a victim of religious persecution. Considering her experience and her ought-to-know, this was somewhat as though an old police reporter had lost his all buying a money-printing machine from some glib stranger at the state fair.

Adams was listed fifth in the official roster of the sponsors of the Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace held at the Waldorf-Astoria, the new social headquarters of the Kremlin cult in New York. At the last moment, however, his name was scratched and the press ran a statement attributed to F.P.A. which said: "I was a sucker. It sounded good so, like a sucker, I joined."

I interpret this freely to say that Mr. Adams was playing cute in the manner of so many uppity personalities but got scared and ran when the Truman administration and the public demanded just then, "which side are you on?"

The fact that F.P.A. thought this roundup of anti-American and pro-enemy arguments and individuals "sounded good" would dispose of him. But I would rather insist that he did not know what he was doing and didn't really change his mind but choked up.

La Thompson's Communist was a fugitive from a concentration camp who fooled her notwithstanding many warnings from other refugees. Her gullibility is a reminder of the criminal collusion in our State Department where porfily was shown in the Hiss-Chambers case and scoffed off as a red-herring by Mr. Truman. However, Miss Thompson seems never to have been a Communist so when we wonder how she could have been that dumb we seem to hear Mortimer Snerd reply, "tain't easy."

Thompson's bolo was one of that privileged crew of "intellectuals" who were rescued and brought here by a polluted State Department through a brutal preferential selection. Brockenridge Long, an assistant secretary of state, told the House

Foreign Affairs Committee about it very confidentially in November, 1943. The record was suppressed until after the war for the sole purpose of protecting this precious crew of "authors," "statesmen," "artists," "editors" and "teachers" and the guilty people who picked them for rescue and left other hounded victims of the Nazi to perish because they had no pull in New York and Washington.

Miss Thompson harbored her refugee from June, 1941, until last summer. She gave him a job as "part time research worker," starting him at $50 a week and raising him to $75. She gave him free use of a furnished country home and loaned him for his New York apartment furniture out of storage which she never got back. He had an understandable contempt for the public schools of New York so Miss Thompson got a scholarship for his daughter at an excellent private school. In the end he went back to Leipzig to teach sociology in the Muscovite university.

By chance the issue of the Saturday Evening Post which carried this confession also ran an article depicting some awful conditions in American schools in which native, non-refugee children are taught the compulsory minimum.

Catholic Daughters Local Court Hears Talk On Catholic Medical Mission Board Work

A report on the work of the Catholic Medical Mission Board was given at the annual communion breakfast of Catholic Daughters of America, Court Santa Maria 164, Sunday morning at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The report was given by the board's president and director, the Rev. Edward F. Garesche, S.J., and was of special interest to the local court because it recently organized a Blue Cross circle to make medical dressings for the missions.

"The Catholic Medical Mission Board is the only organization of its kind in the world," the Rev. Father Garesche said. "It is a voluntary society organized to give whatever help it can to medical missions and missionaries anywhere in the world that can be reached. To date the organization has helped over 2,000 missions."

He told of the remarkable response to his appeal to increase the number of Blue Cross circles. He noted that people in the United States seem to live in a world apart, as it is almost inconceivable that Americans should go through two wars and have the present prosperity while the rest of the world is in such dire straits.

"It is hard for us to imagine the conditions under which these missionaries work," he said. "Their world is one with no hospitals, no drugs, no doctors, but where there are diseases of all kinds—cholera, typhus, malaria, fevers—afflictions of all kinds—not the least of which are the beliefs of the people. Many are pagans, called Animists, who believe that all troubles are caused by the departed spirits. They immediately send for sorcerers and witch doctors when sickness of any kind appears. These sorcerers put the afflicted through all sorts of tortures," he reported.

The speaker told of the medical missions' help in saving babies and mothers in the many areas where the infant and maternal death rate is exceedingly high. He also spoke of the aid through Blue Cross Circles to lepers. "In one leper asylum alone there were 2700 lepers who had nothing but dried banana leaves to lie on their bleeding wounds," he explained. "Today there are nearly 600 circles working to meet the great need."

Some of the results of medical missionary work have been felt in the efficacious means this has been in bringing souls into the church because of the gratitude felt for the missionaries who have relief for the sicknesses, the speaker noted.

The Rev. Father Garesche is also a former editor of the Queen's Work and is organizer of the Leafleters who help to reach the millions in the world who never go near a church or know nothing about religion. The speaker in 1935 obtained permission from his late eminence, Patrick Cardinal Hayes, to found a community of sisters to assist the Jesuits in their missionary work. At Vista Maria, Cragmoor, in the heart of the Shawangunk Mountains, the Rev. Father Garesche founded the motherhouse for the Daughters of Mary, Health of the Sick.

The Rev. Father Garesche was introduced by the Rev. Joseph Gels, pastor of St. Peter's Church, who greeted the members of Court Santa Maria and emphasized the important role played by societies in the backing of the church. He recommended that all should try to be perfectionists in anything which they set out to do.

The communion breakfast Sunday morning was preceded by communion at the 8 o'clock Mass in St. Peter's Church. Approximately 100 members of the court attended. The local court joined with the United States in dedicating the first Sunday in May as Communion Sunday. Mrs. V. A. Gorman, grand regent of the court, presided and welcomed those attending.

During the breakfast two solos Ave Maria and O Sole Mio were sung by Mrs. Antonetta Brocco, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Liscol. The monthly Mass for a just and lasting peace will be offered at St. Mary's Church Wednesday at 7:30 a. m. The regular business meeting of the court will be held at the K. of C. Hall May 12, 8 p. m. Election of officers will take place.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT J. JORDAN

Jordan-Partlan Wedding Takes Place At St. Mary's Church

St. Mary's Church was the setting Sunday at 2 p. m. for the wedding of Miss Kathleen Della Partlan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Partlan, 231 Catheline street, to Robert Joseph Jordan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Jordan, 15 Purvis street. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. John A. Flaherty.

Miss Winifred Entwistle sang Ave Maria. Theodore Riccolono was organist. The altar was decorated with Easter lilies.

Mr. Partlan escorted his daughter. Her gown of white satin was designed with off-the-shoulder neckline, marquisette yoke; deep bodice, and skirt with long train, trimmed with heavy satin orange blossoms. Her French illusion veil was trimmed with lace and attached to a headpiece of orange blossoms. She carried a white prayer book with orchids.

Miss Betty McGowan, maid of honor for her cousin, wore an orchid marquisette gown with matching headpieces and mitts and carried yellow roses.

Edward Jordan, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Edward Trombly, cousin of the bridegroom; and Donald Quick, cousin of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's School and Kingston High School. She is an operator in the New York Telephone Co. Mr. Jordan is a graduate of School No. 1 and Kingston High School. He is employed by Tudoroff Electrical Contractors. During the war he was a corporal in the infantry and served in the Southwest Pacific area for 15 months.

DON'T BAKE IT

By James H. Winters

Your piano is not a cake, don't bake it. That, however, is what far too many people are literally doing without realizing it. The reason for this is that all types of heat used today are much too dry unless moisture is added. Humidity, health and piano suffer from too dry heat. The fallacy of thinking of steam and hot water heat as not being dry is almost universal. Just think about it—the hot water and steam are only a means of keeping the iron pipes and radiators warm so it is really hot iron heat. The slight amount of steam that escapes from the valves of a steam radiator is more than offset by the fact that these radiators are much hotter and therefore dry the air faster. Actually gallons of water should be evaporated daily in every home in cold weather to bring the humidity up to any where near the proper level.

We have just received two beautiful new Wurlitzer Spinets, the Style 925, which is forty inches high, has a direct blow action, very graceful lines and it is really a beauty. Also the new Style 630 thirty seven inches high in Mahogany and we think it is the best looking instrument yet designed. Also, in stock, are many other Spinets and a new baby grand piano.

Frank L. Volk Weds Marjorie Ryan At Cohoes Church

The wedding of Miss Marjorie Ryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Ryan, 257 Central avenue, Cohoes, to Frank L. Volk, 11 Crane street, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Volk of this city, took place Saturday, April 30, at St. Bernard's Church, Cohoes. The double ring ceremony was performed at 9:30 a. m. by the Rev. Peter Smith, assistant pastor of the church.

Raymond Couto was organist. James McManus as soloist sang Ave Maria. On This Day, Oh, Beautiful Mother, and O Lord I Am Not Worthy. Palms, white snapdragons and stocks were used in the church decorations.

The bride was escorted by her father. She wore a white slipper satin gown on train designed with fitted bodice, drop shoulder neckline trimmed with bertha embossed in seed pearls. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, sweet peas and stocks.

The bride's sister, Miss Marion Ryan, as maid of honor, wore a blue gown of Chantilly lace and marquisette, matching headpiece. The other attendants, Miss Helen Volk of this city, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Herbert E. May of Amsterdam wore yellow gowns of Chantilly lace and marquisette with matching headpieces. All carried cascade bouquets of assorted spring flowers.

Emmett Ryan, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Martin Ryan, another brother; and Alfred Flowers of this city. A reception for approximately 100 guests was held at Slessman's Hofbrau, Shaker road, Albany. Mr. and Mrs. Volk left for a wedding trip to Washington, D. C. and Virginia. She wore a gray suit with black accessories and green topper. They will make their home at 11 Crane street.

Mrs. Volk is a graduate of Cohoes High School and Albany Business College. She formerly was employed by General Electric in Schenectady.

Mr. Volk, a graduate of Kingston High School and Moran Business School, is employed in the office of Van's Auto Express.

Cousin DAZZLE Says

An old Italian proverb says: "The anvil lasts longer than the hammer." That ought to be a lesson to folks who try to beat their way through life.

A gentle touch is better than an impatient blow. Take nails for instance. Before you pound one in a plaster wall, cover the spot with adhesive tape. When you drive the nail it won't crack the wall.

If a nailhole gets too loose stuff a split match in the hole and re-drive the nail. To fill old nail holes use tucum powder mixed with water.

I know many ways to make housework easier and most of them include Dazzle Bleach. Dazzle, besides being a wonderful bleach that really gets clothes white, without hard rubbing, is also a very effective germicide for baby's diapers and general household use.

Triple-filtered Dazzle is extra pure, extra gentle. In fact, Dazzle is the only triple-filtered Bleach you can buy. Look for it in the red and white checkerboard label... at your grocer's.

Speaking of buying, there's one thing in this world that no money can buy, that's a baby's smile. But you can earn it, by being sweet, and gentle.

Colonials Name Harry Petty Starter Against Stamford

Bagatelles:
Landing the New York State Women's bowling tournament for Kingston in 1950 was a promotional masterpiece that reflects great credit on Evelyn Dolson and Reta Frederick and their host of co-workers. When a town the size of Kingston puts it over New York city in such convincing fashion that's real news. Our congratulations to the K.W.B.A.

Flotsam and Jetsam:
BETTER LATE THAN NEVER DEPARTMENT: A letter of thanks from Joe Albano expressing his thanks to everyone who helped make a success of the recent benefit game for him. Said Joe: "I would like to take this opportunity to thank you and everyone else, no matter how small a part they played, in helping make my benefit game the complete success that it was. It is very gratifying to know that the sports-minded people of Kingston think of you when you are down, as well as when you are on top." ... Stock car racing will be introduced Saturday at the Hinebeck Speedway. It's the current rage through New England. ... A bowling banquet was canceled suddenly a few nights ago in Paterson, N. J. It seems that the secretary-treasurer of the league disappeared on the eve of the annual function. Along with him went some $1,231 in prize funds for the league. The American Bowling Congress' bonding system will take care of the prize funds.

Last year an unknown donor purchased some silver basketballs to be presented to the Kingston High School varsity champions. Several of the boys received theirs personally but the balance of these have either been lost or mislaid. If anyone happens to know about these, kindly communicate with the writer. These were the regulation basketball charms ... silver-shaped like a small basketball with the inscription "1948 Champs Eastern New York" and with the initials of the individual player.

Of Ancient Trundlers:
THE MAIL BAG: "I am not a bowler but like to read your articles about this sport. I'm greatly interested in ancient news about sports of all kinds, so I thought you would be interested in the following from the Kingston Leader of July 16, 1904. Headline: "Bowling Alley Asked to Get Rubber or Leather Pins." "Before Justice Betts at a special term on Saturday in the matter of Patrick Roman, proprietor of the Hotel Roman (on Wall street) to set aside or modify the injunction obtained by Henry Kelder restraining Roman from operating his bowling alley on the ground that it is a nuisance." After the argument of the attorneys in the case, Brindler and Seeling in behalf of Mr. Kelder consented that in the meantime, Mr. Roman might operate the bowling alley until 9:30 p. m. for one week and, in the meantime, Mr. Roman, was to make every effort to obtain leather or rubber tops. Linton and Van Buren represented Roman—ALEX T. CUNNINGHAM, 156 Pine street, aged 75.

Of Men and Mice:
Vernon Leffly Gomez, a brilliant pitcher and fabled raconteur of the New York Yankees when they were really the Yankees, regaled the Colonial Baseball League officials and sports writers with a flock of humorous anecdotes about major league players. Saturday in Bridgeport, Gomez has a terrific sense of humor and is famous throughout baseball for his stories and witticisms on the national pastime. Gomez promised to address the Kingston Athletic Association either on May 18 or June 15. He is now touring the banquet circuit and baseball leagues as a representative of a national sporting goods house.

Tommy McNells of Kingston, who attended the baseball writers dinner with us Saturday, said he saw the whole Fred Boyesen-Leo Durocher episode and termed it a "frameup" pure and simple. McNells said that Boyesen's conduct during the game and his language was disgraceful.

Stranahan and Turnesa Co-Choices In British Amateur Golf Tourney

St. Andrews, Scotland, May 3 (AP)—Two Americans—Frank Stranahan, Toledo, Ohio, and Willie Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y.—will be joint favorites in the British Amateur Golf Tournament, opening May 23.

Stranahan, the defending champion, and Turnesa, little United States amateur, both won the British crown in 1947, head a large field that includes 16 U. S. players.

A total of 197 entries have been received. The tournament will be contested at Portmarnock, a suburb of Dublin, May 23-28. The sponsor is the Royal and Ancient of St. Andrews.

The United States bid will be the strongest in years. In addition to Stranahan and Turnesa, the list includes Skeel Riegel of Upper Darby, Pa., 1947 U. S. champion; the veteran Francis Oulmet, captain of the 1949 Walker Cup team, and Charles (Chick) Evans of Chicago.

Oulmet and Evans both won U. S. championships more than 30 years ago.

Percy Lucas, captain of the British Walker Cup team, and Jimmy Bruen, 1946 British amateur champion, head the home forces.

Summer League Opens At Ruzzo Bowlatorium

The new eight-team Ruzzo Summer League launches its scheduled Thursday night at the Bowlatorium.

Officers of the league are Joseph Maglino, president; Joe Slager, vice president; Len Ward, secretary, and Ed Czernicki, treasurer.

Teams holding franchises in the league are: Bowlatorium, Broadway Flower Shop, Haber's Grill, Punch & Judy, Morgan Linen, Hofbrau, Slicker's Delivery and Frederick's Coal.

Francisco Sostre, Cuban right hander, who joined the Colonials late in 1948, has been assigned the local opener Thursday night against Stamford.

Manager Julie Laviano pronounced both men ready for the gong. Petty worked five innings against Bristol in Saturday night's exhibition and gave up only two runs.

Danny Rourke, other member of the Kingston's "Big Three" will be unveiled against the Bridgeport Bees Sunday in Bridgeport.

Soak Trophy
Meanwhile, club president Ted Laviano was more concerned with weather than baseball. He said he planned brief opening night ceremonies Thursday and was praying for a break in weather.

"I'd like to see Kingston, smallest city in the Colonial League win the President's Trophy for the best opening night attendance," Laviano said. "With a break in weather, I think we can go it."

Kingston's opening lineup will introduce four new starters to local fans. The club appears faster and has greater balance than in 1948 and prospects are definitely of championship calibre.

Manager Laviano said he would start the season with the same lineup that defeated the Bristol Owls, 7-5 here Saturday. And gave Guy Coleman a rough time in the bargain.

The newcomers are Pete Elko at third base; Modesto Rodriguez, first base; Jerry Murray, right field and Gil Nijrich, catcher.

Release Three Rookies
The club announced the release of catcher Robert Sweeney yesterday and the outright release of rookies Bill Phillips and Walt Bierliener. The latter two had been optioned to the Virginia State League but were returned to the local club.

Manager Laviano said he is impressed by the batting potentialities of Joe Mercurio, rookie outfielder, but plans to convert him into a catcher. The changeover has been in progress for several days. The Colonial skipper feels Mercurio won't make the grade in the outfield but thinks he has a good chance to stick as a catcher because of his batting power.

Holdovers from 1948 who will launch Kingston's first full season in the Colonial League are Manager Julie Laviano, who will catch part time, outfielders Johnny Elenchin and Don "Digger" O'Dell and the double-play combination of Ralph Matzer and Ed McNamara.

McNamara was in mid-season form Saturday racking up thirteen chances without an error.

Colonial Opener Set Wednesday

Harry Petty, who won 13 games as a part time pitcher in 1948, will start for the Kingston Colonials in the 1949 Colonial League opener Wednesday night in Stamford, Conn.

Francisco Sostre, Cuban right hander, who joined the Colonials late in 1948, has been assigned the local opener Thursday night against Stamford.

Manager Julie Laviano pronounced both men ready for the gong. Petty worked five innings against Bristol in Saturday night's exhibition and gave up only two runs.

Danny Rourke, other member of the Kingston's "Big Three" will be unveiled against the Bridgeport Bees Sunday in Bridgeport.

Soak Trophy
Meanwhile, club president Ted Laviano was more concerned with weather than baseball. He said he planned brief opening night ceremonies Thursday and was praying for a break in weather.

"I'd like to see Kingston, smallest city in the Colonial League win the President's Trophy for the best opening night attendance," Laviano said. "With a break in weather, I think we can go it."

Kingston's opening lineup will introduce four new starters to local fans. The club appears faster and has greater balance than in 1948 and prospects are definitely of championship calibre.

Manager Laviano said he would start the season with the same lineup that defeated the Bristol Owls, 7-5 here Saturday. And gave Guy Coleman a rough time in the bargain.

The newcomers are Pete Elko at third base; Modesto Rodriguez, first base; Jerry Murray, right field and Gil Nijrich, catcher.

Release Three Rookies
The club announced the release of catcher Robert Sweeney yesterday and the outright release of rookies Bill Phillips and Walt Bierliener. The latter two had been optioned to the Virginia State League but were returned to the local club.

Manager Laviano said he is impressed by the batting potentialities of Joe Mercurio, rookie outfielder, but plans to convert him into a catcher. The changeover has been in progress for several days. The Colonial skipper feels Mercurio won't make the grade in the outfield but thinks he has a good chance to stick as a catcher because of his batting power.

Holdovers from 1948 who will launch Kingston's first full season in the Colonial League are Manager Julie Laviano, who will catch part time, outfielders Johnny Elenchin and Don "Digger" O'Dell and the double-play combination of Ralph Matzer and Ed McNamara.

McNamara was in mid-season form Saturday racking up thirteen chances without an error.

Britons Ask Perry For Davis Cup Help
Lexington, Va., May 3 (AP)—Fred J. Perry, English tennis ace who now is an American citizen, today pledged to do "everything I may be capable of" to bolster England's sagging Davis Cup hopes.

The British Lawn Tennis Association sent for Perry's aid yesterday. The association wants him to help in readying the team for its matches with Czechoslovakia at Wimbledon beginning May 14.

Perry leaves tonight for London. He termed the invitation "one of the greatest thrills of my career."

"Truly I'm honored and shall do everything I may be capable of doing in the short time before the matches," he said.

Perry, who visited with friends here yesterday where he was at one time tennis coach at Washington and Lee University, will fly from New York Friday night. He reports for work at Wimbledon the next day.

Rain Halts Game
Ashokan was leading Rose's Market of Kingston, 3 to 0, when rain halted their baseball game Sunday in the fourth inning at Ashokan. Slim Personous had pitched hitless ball for the home club. G. Jackson homered for Ashokan off DuBois in the second.

En Route to the All-Triumphant Trip to Buffalo

The Kingston Woman's Bowling Association's delegation of 50 bowlers and officials are shown aboard the Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry en route to Buffalo where they made a successful bid for the 1950 state championships which will be held at the Ruzzo Bowlatorium next spring. The delegates' vote was 181 to 35 in favor of Kingston over New York city. Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk accompanied the delegation and extended a personal invitation to the state group to come to Kingston. The event which will be conducted over a series of week-ends will attract nearly 8,000 persons to the city. Mayor Newkirk is shown in the foreground congratulating Evelyn Dolson, K.W.B.A. president on the start of the historic trip. Chrissie Wilson, vice-president is on Miss Dolson's right.

K. H. S. Nine Plays Port Jervis Friday

Kingston High School athletic squads will be busy on three fronts this week, starting with today's tennis match in Hudson.

The baseball nine seeks to recoup lost ground when it engages the Port Jervis powerhouse in the tri-state city.

Rated of its impressive 13-5 victory over Newburgh Free Academy, the Red and Black appear to be the class of the league.

The tri-staters have nine varsity players returning. Against Newburgh's big John Bowman and Dick Tyler they lashed out with 13 safeties.

Carroll and Chase collaborated to restrict the Academicians to live safeties. Chase, who's son of the Port Jervis coach, is the probable starter against Kingston.

Track Squad Opens
Kingston was able to collect eight hits off Harold Schweickhardt, the Middletown ace, in the DUSO opener and with a bit of heads-up baseball would have emerged victorious. A steal of wildness by starter Hanny Levy and slow base running in the seventh were damaging factors in Maroon setback.

Levy will probably draw the starting assignment against Port Jervis with the remainder of the cast intact from the opener.

Coach G. Warren Kiser, track forces challenge the perennial cinder supremacy of Newburgh.

High School Golfers Open Season By Routing Liberty; Randall Has 77

The Kingston High School golf squad is rounding into shape under the direction of Coach Russ Cunningham at the Wiltyack golf course.

Leon Randall, Kingston's No. 1 man, led the squad with a 77, firing a 38 and a 39. His opponent Holland, had the visitors' best score with 45 and 46 for a 91 total.

Public Action Is Needed to Extend Boat Stops Here

The possibility of having the Hudson River Day Line extend its operations to Kingston is being referred to the Traffic and Transportation Committee of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce for study.

Albert Kurdt, executive secretary of the chamber pointed out again that unless those who stand to benefit by the operation of the Day Line to Kingston are willing to support a cooperative area advertising program, the boats are not likely to operate as far north as Kingston. This fact was repeated, Kurdt said, by George Sanders, president of the new line.

at the meeting of the Central Hudson Steamboat Company Association in Newburgh Saturday night. In fact, Sanders stated that if a similar promotional program cannot be worked out with Poughkeepsie and Newburgh interests, those stops are likely to be eliminated from the schedule. Mr. Sanders suggested a cooperative promotional program for the entire Hudson Valley.

The Kingston Chamber of Commerce would welcome and solicit suggestions from all those interested in seeing the Day Line extend its operations to Kingston. Unless the traffic and transportation committee receives some active support and indications of direct interest regarding this matter, little can be accomplished. It has been suggested that an open public meeting be held on the subject. If anyone is willing to attend such a meeting, to determine the amount of interest in having the Day Line extend its operations to Kingston, the Chamber of Commerce would be pleased to be the sponsor.

Du Pont House Paint Cleans itself!

Houses painted with Du Pont No. 40 Outside White are dazzling white at the start, but more important, they stay white. Du Pont "40," owing to its unique combination of pigments and oils, actually cleans itself... sheds dirt and dust with every heavy rain. Normally, this "Self-cleaning" starts in a few months on most surfaces. However, excessive soot or heavy shade, or stains from metal surfaces such as copper screening, may interfere with or delay the process.

"Self-cleaning" Du Pont House Paint is also available in light tints. It assures you long-lasting protection against rust, rot and decay. Economy is yours, too. Smooth, easy application, excellent spread, high hiding... all add up in your favor when you specify Du Pont.

If the surface is bare wood or badly weathered paint, make certain a prime coat of new Du Pont House Paint Primer is applied. It assures maximum adhesion and performance of the finish coat.

DULUX Trim and Trellis Finishes Resist Fading

Outside trim and shutters keep their sparkle year after year... with extra-durable DULUX Trim and Trellis, it resists mildew and fading... brushes on easily... covers solidly... dries quickly. In seven colors, including a new Blue and Bright Red that resist fading!

Do You Remember
by SOPHIE MILLER

With Kingston again on daylight saving time, and trains running on eastern standard time, did it ever confuse you to catch a train? Speaking to Harry L. Edson of the recreation department about it, he told me when he was on business trips through the Mohawk valley during the first world war days, each farm community chose time most suitable to each one. It became so confusing starting out of one village at 6:30 and arriving at the next stop, at say 6:15, that one place on the line, St. Johnsville, went on "split time" to try and even things out.

Who remembers the Opera Barber Shop of 279 Fair street which had its shop in the old Opera House lobby back in 1926, run by James Wells? Have one of Jimmy's advertising blotters. Also have program of Craftsman's Club Minstrels of March 8, 1926, held at Masonic Hall on Wall street. Arthur A. Davis was interlocutor, Paul Zucca the musical director, with a novelty number by Richard Obenaus. Remember Dick's tiny barber shop on John street and how he always sat out in the sun between customers with an extra chair for passing friends. Harry Lazarus was the baritone soloist. Remember Harry Lazarus the Albany theatre owner who leased the Y.M.C.A. Auditorium Theatre on Pine Grove avenue around March, 1923. Later he moved to Kingston and planned the erection of the present Broadway Theatre, where he had been manager for several years. (Last line of the Craftsman's Club Minstrels read: "Ladies will assist the committee by removing their hats. Thank you.")

Who remembers the Ulster County Riding and Driving Club? Have here a mimeographed letter, dated June 1, 1926 which proves its popularity in those days. Reading in part: "Dear Member: Memorial Day... the parade, people and events were not favored by the weather. The grandstand was wet, the track wet and it was so cold the horses could not perform at all. Worst of all, there were over 500 automobile parties turned away that afternoon. This was taken as a sign that the folks did wish to see the Ulster County Riding and Driving Club event."

Being locked out at night is a minor misfortune compared to the piano player who forgets his keys.

It's open to debate whether it's more dangerous for a man to allow his wife to drive his car or refuse to let her.

New Guest Towels

Have you ever wondered why your guest towels are seldom used? Some manufacturers believe that it is because most people do not like to disturb the carefully pressed array of beautiful embroidered towels which hang on the towel bar. New guest complexion towels available in 13 different colors from pastels to dark accents have a rough instead of a dainty finish which might encourage their use.

coming June 5th, the full program, planned for Memorial Day will be presented, so tell your friends. Secretary - Harold Clarke.

In a previous letter dated May 27, 1926 they gave the progress of club as follows: "Club House—Now open to members and their guests—is being operated by Mr. Victor Russo under supervision of House Committee, the Misses Herbert and Townsend. Grand Stand now completed, seats 2,000. 32 boxes available at $25.00 per season. Construction of tennis courts within the next month. Membership cards admits you to the grounds at all times including race meets." Who remembers some of these events?

Governor Leaves

1948 presidential election when he announced he would not run again for president.

"I'm not going to answer that question every week," he shot back.

"If I have anything to say on it, one way or another, I'll say it," he added. He did not fix a time.

But his refusal to declare himself definitely out as a potential candidate for further public office confirmed an Associated Press story of last Friday, quoting an informed source, that Dewey had not made up his mind to retire to private life upon the expiration of his second term as governor on Dec. 31, 1950.

It served to heighten speculation, pro and con, on his availability for the U. S. Senatorial nomination or nomination for another term as governor.

Washington observers have pointed out that if Dewey obtained the Senate seat now held by the ailing Democrat, Robert F. Wagner, he might be able eventually to jockey himself into position for a third crack at the presidency—not in 1952, perhaps, but conceivably in 1956 or 1960. Wagner's term expires at the end of next year, but he may retire before then.

To some who heard Dewey in his statewide broadcast last night, he did not sound like a man bent upon returning to private law practice.

He called the session the "most important" of the seven held since he took office.

To critics of his $937,000,000 budget with its 50 per cent boost in income taxes, Dewey replied that state taxes now are less than in 1941.

"In 1941," he said, "the state took in taxes something over four cents out of every dollar of income in the state. Right now it is taking three cents, as figured on last year's income."

Dewey indirectly claimed victory over the Erie and Westchester Republican legislators who led the tax revolt last winter and cut $48,000,000 from the governor's proposed tax boost.

"Much of the important legislation was somewhat obscured because of a rather noisy controversy over the budget," the governor said.

"As it boiled down," he added, "it became clear that the budget was efficient and really rock bottom. The arguments finally got down to the question whether some of the costs should be financed by borrowing. It was finally settled by authorizing the use of bonds for $48,000,000."

Son That Mother Curned Loves Her; Punishment Slip

New York, May 3 (AP)—Mrs. Geraldine Vetter — accused of burning her nine-year-old son's hand over a gas flame as punishment—still has the boy's love.

"I want to kiss my mother," cried Philip Vetter yesterday as he left the witness chair in a court room where the 38-year-old mother is on trial.

The boy, who had told the judge and jury he loves his mother "very much," tried to run to her. But the judge ordered him taken from the room.

The jury saw the boy's right hand, which he can't open. Part of one finger has been amputated. The boy, who has been a patient at Bellevue Hospital since he was burned last Thanksgiving, told the jury his mother caught him smoking a cigarette.

He said his mother—charged with assault and endangering the life of a minor—lit the gas on a stove "and put my hand over it." He testified he pulled his hand out of his mother's grasp, and it went into the flame as he did so. Defense counsel contended the mother only was trying to scare the boy so he would stop smoking and stealing from stores and from her.

The boy, who admitted the pilfering, said he had never had even a spanking until last Thanksgiving.

will be required to possess will be such that the Kingston Housing Authority will have assurance that the tenants will not be of such a character that they will destroy or depreciate the value of the property, will not have been convicted of a felony, will be capable of paying the required rent, and will abide by all the rules and regulations to be set up in the lease governing the use and occupancy of the apartments in the project and the grounds surrounding the area.

Regarding Maintenance
To a question on maintenance the authority said: "The Kingston Housing Authority will maintain tenant placement service in which there shall be recorded lists of untenantable suitable dwellings available to families of low income and it shall furnish such information to such families. The authority is also authorized to pay up to $100 of the necessary costs of removal of low-income families."

It explained in another answer that "It is estimated that there will be a director of management, one clerical assistant, and probably two or more full-time maintenance men."

The authority supplied on request in the resolution the following list of property owners in the proposed project area: Slight, Higgins, C. R. Morris, Estate, Scharr, Palen, Campbell, Schrader, Rafalowsky, Palen and DuMont. It explained: "The price to be paid for the properties is the lowest price at which they can be obtained by purchase or condition. If the owner demands too high a price with respect to the value of his property, it will be necessary to take condemnation proceedings."

Invented Bowler
William Coke, a rather portly English sportsman, invented the bowler hat because the conventional top hat got in his way when, while hunting, he had to crawl through hedges.
